LITTLE THEATRE

Welcome Letter from Divas! Committee Chair

Dear Friends,

Welcome to Divas! Under the Stars, where some of RLT's most talented performers will be entertaining you tonight. Who will win the crown? That depends on you! Please show your love by opening your hearts and wallets, as each dollar counts as a vote for your favorite Diva.

There are many people involved in this production, both on and off the stage. I would like to thank our talented and energetic director, Alison Lawrence, who never loses her enthusiasm or creativity; musical director Michael Santangelo, who brings out the best in the singers; stage manager Alex Gromo – after all, there wouldn't be entrances and exits without him! And a huge thank you goes to the volunteers, who are the backbone of RLT, for helping us put on a show tonight.

I would also like to thank the wonderful staff at RLT, the Board of Directors, and the Divas Committee. Every dollar that you spend tonight acknowledges their hard work. Please be generous.

Lastly, a standing ovation for the Divas who have given of their time, talent, and fundraising skills. Each and every one of you is a winner. Break a leg tonight.

Warm regards,

Georgia Donaldson,
Chair

Letter from the Director

Welcome Home!

"When I think of home, I think of a place where there's Love overflowing."

These lyrics from the song "Home" from The Wiz, always come to mind when I think of what home means to me. For 36 years, Raleigh Little Theatre has overflowed with love into all aspects of my life. All the people I have met there have become a part of my chosen family, and a part of my cultural community home.

The song continues saying "Suddenly my world's gone and changed its face, but I still know where I'm going..." My, how suddenly our world changed its face! Still, we as actors, singers, technicians, volunteers, and staff knew we would eventually be returning home to the theatre. Fourteen months later and here we are...Home...at RLT, under the stars celebrating 15 years of Divas! fundraisers.

Without the love and support of everyone that has donated (no matter how much or how little) to RLT throughout the years, and especially through this past year, many of us would lose our home away from home. Our lives and our cultural community would be so much less... you have strengthened the foundation of that home and we are grateful.

If you have had the opportunity to watch the Divas! videos on RLT's Youtube channel (you should take a look as they are quite fun), you may have noticed many of the Divas mention RLT as being a "home" to them. That it is a place of refuge, safety to be themselves, to build healthy and long lasting relationships, to be inspired to create beauty in the world, to find themselves, to be comforted, to laugh, to cry, to play, to explore our humanity. To be our best selves and to love and be loved. Theatre creates and builds us a home and isn't that something to be grateful for... So, WELCOME HOME! We have missed you.

HISTORY OF DIVAS

In 2004, the idea for a fundraiser for RLT originated “out of a conversation between myself and Amy Flynn” says Sandi Sullivan. “We were discussing the fact that many people thought other actresses and myself didn’t get along because we often found ourselves competing for the same roles. In fact, the opposite was true. I had great respect for the other actresses. Then the idea to start a fake fight between myself and these other women began to run through my mind” ...and the idea for Divas! was born.

The idea was this: there were so many talented women in the theatre community competing for so few roles, why not give them a chance to shine on stage together and raise some money in the process? Sandi felt that performers could provide their own costumes, perform without a set, use basic lighting and have minimal rehearsal. Therefore, the money from ticket sales for the evening would all be profit. The audience could vote for their favorite Diva of the evening. Amy Flynn took it a step further and said, “Why not make the audience vote with money?!” That was the final touch! Divas! was a thing.

Sandi presented the idea to the managing director of RLT and it was on! 12 women joined forces to present a concert style performance for One Night Only! In 2007, Divas! opened the competition to all genders. Since 2004, Divas! has been raising money for the theatre every year with the exception of 2009, 2011 and 2014, making this year the 15th anniversary. In that time, Divas! has raised over $650,000 for RLT programs, making it the most successful fundraiser ever at Raleigh Little Theatre.

Thank you to ALL the Divas that have given so generously of their time, talent and fundraising skills.
